GOLDFIELD DESTROYED BY FIRE STARTED BY THE EXPLOSION OF A GASOLINE STOVE

WATER SUPPLY FAILED

East Wind Also Helped In Driving Flames With Relentless Fury

GOLDFIELD, July 8—Up one side and down the other of Columbia and Crook avenues, the principal thoroughfares of the city, there remains nothing but smouldering piles of ashes and debris tonight. The main section of this, one of the principal mining cities of the west, has been swept from existence

A fire started in the home of Mrs. Wilson at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Before 8 o'clock tonight the flames had made their way from one building to another until nothing was left to destroy. A fierce east wind fanned the roaring blaze into still greater fury Nothing could live in its path and to make the situation worse the water supply failed almost entirely The small streams turned toward the burning buildings were dried up practically before the water struck the flames So rapid was the work of destruction that many persons were compelled to flee for their lives, some of them not even saving a hat or wrap.

The loss will amount to hundreds of thousands of dollars Insurance companies have not assumed any risks in the place, so the loss will be complete.

Among the heaviest losers are Cole & Cladman, a three story hotel building, just approaching completion; Wendel's real estate office, Anderson's fruit store, the Bon Ton millinery store, the San Francisco Bakery, the Robert Romer building, Cassin & Ish's store, the Aspen House, the Columbia Hotel, the home of Mrs. Walter Wilson. This list does not include a number of smaller buildings in the path of the flames. In almost every instance the loss was complete.

Mrs. Walter Wilson attempted to light a gasoline stove in her home when the fire started. The stove failed to work properly and an explosion followed. The flames were scattered about the kitchen and soon the entire structure was ablaze. An alarm of fire was sounded, the department, composed of volunteers, responded promptly. It was not until an effort was made to throw water onto the burning building that it was realized that the supply was entirely inadequate.

The wind helped the fire along and despite the heroic work of the firemen the flames spread to the adjoining building From that time on all hope of saving the town was abandoned, for all the buildings in the path of the fire were of wood, dried almost to tinder

NO LIVES WERE LOST

So Rapid Was the Work of Destruction People Could Not Save Effects

A strong effort was made to save the new hotel building, one of the finest in the city. However, the work was useless, for it required only a short time for the flames to leap the intervening gap and while the people looked on helpless to prevent it the big structure was slowly but surely burned to the ground.

Thus far no lives are reported lost, though a few persons in their well meaning efforts to fight the flames were slightly injured. At 7 o'clock tonight the fire was under control and shortly before midnight there was no danger from it spreading into the residence district.

Though the loss will fall heavily on some residents of the camp, they are not discouraged and with such bright prospects for a still greater era of prosperity for the camp, preparations are already under way for rebuilding more substantial structures on the site of the present ruins.

RENO ELECTRICIAN IS FRIGHTFULLY BURNED

Torch Explodes Covering Roy Majors With Imflamable Fluid, and He Is Saved From Death by Prompt Action of Fellow Workman

Roy Majors, an employe of the Washoe Power and Light Company, was frightfully burned by the explosion of a gasoline torch yesterday morning while working upon electric light wires in the rear of the store of J. R. Bradley.

The gasoline torch over which Mr. Majors was bending exploded, scattering a sheet of gasoline over his head and shoulders The fluid became ignited almost instantly, and crazed with fright and pain Mr Majors plunged down the alley at break neck speed Right at his heels was one of his fellow workmen, whose prompt efforts no doubt saved Majors' life. When the burning man was overtaken his rescuer smothered the flames with his slouch hat.

Mr. Majors was taken to his home, where his injuries were attended to and his entire head and shoulders wrapped in bandages.

Both his eyes are swollen shut, the skin is burned from his face and the nose is twice its normal size. Mr. Majors' ears are also badly burned.

That Mr Majors escaped death may be considered remarkable when it is known that nearly a quart of the explosive was spread over his head by the explosion. The prompt assistance of his coworker prevented the flames burning as deep as they would if they had been allowed to burn out.

As it is Mr Majors will be in bed for several weeks and it will be ten days before the bandages can be removed from the burns

POWERS TO CALL FOR EXTREME PENALTY

Will Insist That Traitors to the Czar Be Not Accorded Privileges Usually Granted to Ordinary Prisoners of War

ST. PETERSBURG, July 9—The foreign office undoubtedly will make the strongest representations against the mutineers of the Potemkine being treated as simple deserters by Roumania and will demand their surrender, not only for mutiny, but also for the murder of their officers, the bombardment of Odessa and the incitement of a revolution.

Their crime is one which is considered most odius by all the nations and it is thought to be imperative that the strongest punishment be meted out to the ringleaders as an example to the fleets of Russia and of the whole world.

A strong sentiment is manifesting itself in favor of wiping the name of the Potemkine from the navy register and giving the ship a new name The situation in the Caucasus is so bad that the authorities dare not publish the accounts of the naval mutinies at Odessa. The government is taking measures to distribute arms to the Russian population in the Caucasus.

200 MEN ARE NOW GUARDING THE RUINS

Heroic Action all That Saved the Entire Mining Camp From Being Swept Out of Existence in the Conflagration Yesterday

(BY J. F. O'BRIEN)

GOLDFIELD, Nev, July 8—It was the most destructive conflagration in the history of the camp. The loss will approximate $100,000 With three exceptions every building bounded by Columbia and Fifth avenues and Ramsey and Meyers streets was totally destroyed. There was practically no insurance.

Two hundred special officers have been sworn in and are guarding the burned district to prevent a further spread of the conflagration from sparks and flying embers.

The fire started at 5 20 from an exploding gasoline stove in the Bon Ton millinery store on the east side of Columbia street With incredible swiftness the flames spread to the adjoining building to the south and within ten minutes after the first alarm the Goldfield Hotel, one of the largest structures in the city, situated at the corner of Crook and Columbia avenues, was a seething mass of flames. It was only by the herculean efforts of a band of fire fighters, headed by Andy Fessler, W. S. Elliott and Walter Williams, that the entire business portion of the city was saved.

The fight centered at the buildings opposite the Hotel Goldfield, which was literally swathed with blankets, saturated with water. In this way the flames were prevented from crossing Columbia avenue and attacking the buildings on Main street.

The principal losses were: The Hotel Goldfield, $35 000, the Grand View Hotel, $15,000, San Francisco Bakery, $6000, Robert Romer & Co, $2000, Drs Dunham & Von Wedelstaedt, $2000, The Aspen, $1500, The American Hotel, $1500, and probably twenty residences.

Tonight everything is quiet. There have been no depredations on account of the disaster

RUSSIAN REBELS SURRENDER SHIP

The Kniaz Potemkine Is Again in the Hands of the Czar and the Mutiny Is Now Thought to Be at an End

ST PETERSBURG, July 9—The crew on the mutinied battleship Kniaz Potemkine raised the flag of surrender to their masthead at Kustenji today, surrendering on condition that they be treated as simple deserters.

ODESSA, July 8—Vice Admiral Chouknin when informed of the surrender of the Potemkine, dispatched two warships and six torpedo boats to Kustenji to take over the battleship.

Army Officers Called Away

Captain and Mrs S E. Hunt and "Happy Jimmy" Malloy, who for the past thirteen months have been in charge of the Reno barracks of the Salvation Army will hold their farewell services today. They plan to leave tomorrow morning for Pacific Grove to enter the Home of Rest. After a week's visit there they will be assigned to another station

Their successors as yet have not been announced The departing officers worked hard and faithfully for their cause while in Reno and many here regret to see them leave.

One Convict Captured

TACOMA, July 8—Sick in mind and body, and clothed in rags, James Leslie, one of the escaped convicts from the federal prison, staggered into the town of Kent this afternoon and was soon arrested It is reported tonight that Convict Malone has been captured near Stone Landing

ROOT EXAMINED BY RENO CLUB PHYSICIAN

Flimsy Excuse of the Song Writer for His Defeat by Hart Punctured by Statement of the Reno Athletic Club

Root is making the big talk in San Francisco that he was in no condition to fight when he entered the ring for his battle with Hart, as he was suffering from an injury sustained at the hands of his sparring partner, Mike Schreck. Root declares that he entered the ring against the advice of his physicians. All that kind of talk is tommy rot and will not elevate Root in the eyes of the public who paid their good money to see the Hart-Root fight There is not one scintilla of truth in Root's statement, as he was examined at 4 o'clock on the morning of the day of the fight by two physicians employed by the Reno club and found physically perfect. Under the state law of Nevada the fighters are required to be examined by a physician twelve hours before they enter the ring. Two competent members of the medical profession made a thorough examination of Root on the morning of the fight and found no such injury as he claims to have received

While it is true that Root is at the present time confined to his apartments in a San Francisco hotel it is from no injury which he sustained before the fight Perhaps Marvin Hart had something to do with Mr. Root's condition, as it will be remembered that it was no love tap that put the song writer to the resinous padding for the full count, and then some.

HIGHWAYMEN IDENTIFIED

John Hayes and Bernard Toelge Point Out Sabin and Christie as the Men Who Robbed Them at the Brewery Saloon

Jim Sabin and Tony Christie must await the action of the grand jury on a charge of highway robbery. The two men were given their preliminary examination before Judge Pollock, sitting for Judge Nash in the justice court last night.

In the presence of at least one hundred persons Sabin and Christie were told to stand and face their accusers. Then ex-Sheriff John Hayes and Bernard Toelge arose and pointing to the accused men positively identified them as the two men who robbed the Brewery saloon one night last week. The identification was positive and four hours of determined cross examination on the part of Attorney Lewers, who is representing the defendants failed to shake this damaging evidence.

Even Jim Sabin, cool and collected as he usualy is flinched beneath the words of Mr. Hayes, words which in all probability will send him to state prison.

It was nearly midnight when the examination was concluded and Judge Pollock ordered them held. Their bonds were placed in the sum of $2000 In default of this they were remanded to the custody of the sheriff.

So complete was the identification of Sabin that the officers believe one of the pair will confess. It is also understood that the prosecution has several important witnesses held in reserve.

The defense last night made no effort to establish their clients' innocence, deciding to wait until the case comes to trial. From what can be learned a determined effort will be made to establish an alibi.

CONFEDERATE SPY MEETS SUDDEN DEATH

SANTA CRUZ, July 8—Mrs Chas Gray, who was formerly Mrs Amanda Monks, famous as a Confederate spy during the rebellion, was drowned in Boulder Creek this evening, a mile from the town of the same name

Mr. and Mrs. Gray were returning from town in a buggy. When they reached the bridge over Boulder Creek they met an automobile driven by a son of J. C. McMillan, a prominent Oakland banker, and a party of five.

The horse took fright and Gray got out of the buggy to hold the animal, but it became unmanagable and backed off the bridge down a steep bank, falling on top of Mrs. Gray, who remained in the buggy.

Mrs. Gray was a cousin of Daniel Webster.

LIGHTNING STRIKES A PLEASURE PARTY

NEW YORK, July 8—Ten persons were prostrated and rendered unconscious today by a stroke of lightning at Prospect Park, Brooklyn. They were playing tennis and sought shelter from a sudden thunderstorm under a great elm. They had scarcely done so when a bolt of lightning struck the tree, splitting its trunk to the roots and hurling those beneath it to the ground, as if dead. The spectacle caused a panic among the hundreds of people huddled under the other trees. All the injured will recover.

ABANDON HOPE OF SAVING DOOMED SAILORS

PARIS, July 9—All hope of saving the crew of the submarine boat Farfadet, which sank at the entrance to the port of Sidi Abdallah in Tunis, has been abandoned, as the efforts made during last night to raise the vessel were ineffective.

PARIS, July 8—The ministry of marine has issued the following bulletin concerning the submarine boat Farfadet

"The Farfadet has not been towed into port but salvage work is proceeding, and it is hoped that it will be raised Sunday morning. At 6 30 this evening the crew did not reply to signals. Although the situation is desperate all hope of saving them has not been abandoned"

PLUMBER KILLED IN FALLING BUILDING

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8—Samuel Cowap, a plumber, was killed, and Dennis Hogan and Morris Guarguilo, plumbers' helpers, were injured this afternoon by the collapse of a four story building at ninth and Tehama streets.

The building was nearly completed and the men were putting in the plumbing when suddenly the structure collapsed without warning.

Cowap, who was in the basement, was caught under the timbers and crushed to death Hogan sustained a broken leg and Guarguillo was bruised.

WILL PLEA FOR JUSTICE

Mrs. Williamson Comes From Fresno, California, to Oppose Pardon of Man Who Murdered Her Husband

Pat Herron, under life sentence for the murder of William Williamson at Sparks two years ago, will apply for a pardon at Carson tomorrow

Mrs Williamson, wife of the murdered man, arrived here yesterday morning. She came all the way from Fresno, Cal, and is enroute to Carson to appear before the board of pardons. She goes to plea for justice, to plea that the slayer of her husband be punished as the court decreed

Two years ago this month the crime was committed Herron, it was brought out at the trial, was in love with Katie Williamson. His attentions were not reciprocated. Williamson went to Sparks to purchase a horse from A. F. McPhail. While at Sparks he became involved in a quarrel with the Herron family, during which Pat Herron shot him five times, causing death. Katie Williamson testified against Herron at the trial. Since then she has been married and resides in Reno.

Mrs. Williamson opposed Herron's pardon a year ago and with success. She is still determined to fight against his freedom and stated yesterday that she will continue to do so as long as she has strength to make her plea. She believes that Herron murdered her husband in cold blood and that instead of life imprisonment he should have been hanged.

Feeling against Herron was strong at the time of the crime and in many quarters the feeling still exists. The general opinion is that the man escaped luckily and the least he should do is to spend the balance of his days behind prison bars.

Modish Displays of Summer Toilettes

THE MILITARY TURBAN

WITH UNDULATING BRIM

THE display of summer toilettes that has held the center of the fashionable stage ever since Lent first began—they were really appropriate for the southern fittings that set in with the Mardi Gras festivals—show no signs of waning with the approach of the warm weather. Rather, indeed, does the interest heighten for now is the season when the frocks themselves may be brought out and worn, and that without anybody to hint that one is trying to "rush" the season in the least by so doing.

The lingerie gowns are among the most charming effects of the late showings. And to what a pinnacle of extravagance have they reached! The most exquisite of hand embroideries are supplemented by the use and a lavish use at that, of real laces, and it is no uncommon thing to see a frock with embroideries and several kinds and characters of lace weaves cleverly combined.

One charming model that proclaims Paris in its every line and fold shows a blouse of batiste brodee that has a V-shaped chemisette of bebe Irish crochet, the V lines of this defined with a platte Valenciennes, and the joining of blouse and chemisette concealed with an applique of banding with a wavy edge worked to match the blouse.

The sleeve combined all three varying materials most cleverly. The upper part is of embroidered batiste, then there is a puff of the Valenciennes, ended in a frill of the same, and this drops over a cuff of the bebe Irish crochet. The skirt shows the all-over embroidery for the upper part, this deftly fitted with tuckings over the hips, and at the knee depth two flounces complete the length to the hem, the flounces embroidered to match the all-over. Here are three widely varying materials so cleverly combined that there is not a hint of scrappiness to the result, no suggestion of the remnant counter or the family piece bag—and certainly neither the one nor the other is suggested in the price asked for this smart piece of costly simplicity, for which unlined the modest sum of $250 is demanded and eager purchasers are found at that figure.

It is this same simplicity in effect but multiplicity of detail that is the secret, but the modishness of all the summer frocks. They may, and probably to the uninitiated do, look as though they might be duplicated for a mere song, but when the trial is made the result is usually lacking in the distinctive smartness which the Parisian lingerie frock of really exquisite materials always displays.

And this same multiplicity of detail is one of the newest vagaries of the silken gown. That this is a silken summer none will attempt to gainsay, and all of the facinating features of handiwork that go to make the success of the lingerie frock are repeated in the silken gown with even better and richer effect.

All sorts of corded skirtings are done with tiny featherbone cords to hold them in shape, and these are looped twisted, festooned, vandyked and treated to the thousand and one other caprices that the designer of this season takes delight in inventing.

And with these smart gowns there are hats that are very likely to prove decidedly misleading when viewed from one standpoint only.

There are some smart Dolly Varden hats that are the picture of demureness when viewed from the front. Seen from behind, where a deep cache peigne tilts the shape forward almost to the lip of one's nose, a perfect conservatory of flowers is revealed which makes the chapeau take on a most bewitching air of frivolity and gaiety, and reveals a side to the milliner's art which one would not suspect at all from a front view.

Then there are those smart shapes that are built up on the side only, a deep bandeau giving the modish tilt. Indeed the hat that does not tilt itself at some point or angle is hardly in the fashionable procession at all this season, and those that tilt at the side show a top that is comparatively untrimmed, the under part of the upward flare receiving all the trimming effects. Ostrich plumes are caught here, the quill end fastened to the bandeau and the tip curling up over the brim

The massing of the trimming scheme at the back of the hat is a late feature that is receiving much attention. With the extremely abbreviated brims that some of the newest shapes display this seems the only logical point at which to bunch such garniture as may be desired. This, of course calls for a new style of hairdressing, and the slightly waved front, with or without a center parting, and the back built up to almost chignon style and covered with a coiffure net is the very latest manifestation to accompany these new and novel shapes.

With Undulating Brim

Those shapes with the medium size crown, usually of drum shape, and a brim that is broad on the front and sides, narrowing considerably in the back are among the best that the milliner produces for summer wear. The brim is variously manipulated, according to the design of the hat, and the features of the wearer. The one pictured shows a model that cannot fail to be becoming to the average wearer, especially if she is still in her teens or the early twenties. A Neapolitan straw in pure white has the brim faced underneath with godet-shaped rows of white crin, and the same is use to trim the top of the crown, which is thus disposed in wavy lines that match those of the brim. A broad white satin ribbon is carelessly crushed into a band around the crown, long loops and fringed ends appearing toward one side. Little Scotch roses on white are bunched together at the left side, the loops of ribbon seeming to hold them together and a similar bunch is tucked in on the bandeau right beneath, this bandeau being trimmed with a twist of the satin ribbon, broad in front and narrowing to nothing at the back.

The Military Turban

The somewhat severe lines of this smart Panama tuban are relieved in the application of small Banksia roses with quillings of velvet ribbons and festooned loops and ends of the same The crown is low and round and the wide brim is pinched up into turban shape all around, a smart point coming exactly to the front. Each dent is separately and differently trimmed, the greater part of the trimming being posed just at the left of the front, where a stiff-looking rosette is made with a flower center and a velvet ribbon quilling for the edge. This is joined to the next one towards the back by loops of ribbon, and the other side is simply trimmed into the folds. The back is built up somewhat by the bandeau, and this, too, is trimmed with flowers and velvet ribbon.

One of the Latest Turban Shapes.

The hempen weaves are fast replacing the more expensive chip shapes, a greater durability being claimed for their successor. One in a pretty shade of porcelain blue is pictured, in which the back is pinched in close to the round crown, and the left side flares upward in a most fetching manner. Sprays of the most natural-looking La France roses are posed carelessly on the up side of the brim, these lying flat just as though they had rested there quite by chance. A border of pale blue velvet piped at one edge in black, is arranged all around the upper brim, the outer one being left entirely untrimmed. From the crown a group of pale blue ostrich plumes are cleverely draped, three harmonizing shades being observed in these, one short one dropping over the crown towards the front and the other two turning backward over the brim with the tip resting on the hair. The bandeau at the left side is trimmed with roses and foliage and a spray of these seems to pinch up that hat in the back.

SIMPLE FROCK IN SILK DOTTED MULL

THE MODERN SILKEN GOWN

Simple Frock in Silk Dotted Mull

A smart simplicity the is keynote of many of the summer modes, and this is well exemplified in the frock of white dotted silk mull, the oldtime shower of hail pattern being among the recent revivals from other days. The bodice lining in white silk is fully fitted and fastened at the back. The mull is arranged in yoke fashion, shirred ribbon running from the collar to the edge of the yoke in sun-ray lines, and a double ruche of white satin ribbon defines the yoke all around. A second and similar application of the ribbon trims the bodice around halfway above the many-pointed belt. The sleeve is of the approved elbow length.

MOTHER WILL GO TO FUNERAL

Mrs. Farvoid, Accompanied By Sheriff, Will See Her Little One Laid At Rest

What caused the death of the Farvoid infant?

This is the question which is puzzling the authorities.

In case the physicians fail to discover the presence of poison in the stomach of the child, which is now being chemically analyzed, the authorities will be in the dark more than ever.

The examination of the body by the doctors and the autopsy establishes beyond a doubt that the child did not die of suffocation, as was first supposed. The lungs were in a collapsed condition, which always occurs after death, and there was no congested blood to indicate that the respiration was anything but normal at the time of death.

Mrs. Farvoid, who is now in the custody of the sheriff, will be permitted to attend the funeral which is to occur this morning at 10 o'clock from the undertaking parlors of Perkins, Oliver and Gulling. She will be accompanied by a deputy sheriff and will witness the last rites over the body of her little one.

Tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock the inquest investigating the cause of the infant's death will be resumed by Coroner Read.

Mrs. Farvoid has asked District Attorney Craig to be permitted to testify in her own behalf and this request will be accorded her. The testimony of the physicians making the autopsy and a report of the chemical examination of the stomach and its contents will be made.

The chief reason for making the analysis of the stomach is the fact that when the autopsy was held the stomach was found to contain a quantity of mucous matter, which appeared to the physicians as a suspicious indication.

Through an inadvertance and before it was known that an analysis was to be made this matter was thrown away, but enough of it remained to enable the physicians to determine its true character.

ARE STILL AT SWORDS POINTS

Rival Electric Companies Getting Ready for Big Legal Engagement in District Court

The suit of the Reno Power, Light and Water Company against the Washoe Power and Development Company for a permanent restraining order enjoining the defendants from tampering with the wires and fixtures of the plaintiff, and to recover $5000 for damages claimed to have been sustained, is still dragging along in the courts.

Both companies have cleared decks for action and are preparing for the final legal bombardment, which is to occur when the case finally comes up for trial. The proceedings now being conducted by the litigants are in the nature of preliminary to the big suit.

Yesterday afternoon Judge Curler gave the defendant ten days in which to answer the complaint and denied the motion to strike out a portion of the demurrer of the defendant.

Yesterday being law and motion day in the district court, the court ordered that the administration of the estates of Mrs. Jeffries and Anna J. Foxwell be summary. Under the law the administration of estates under $2000 may be executed without much of the red tape and law's delay, which obtains where the value of the property of deceased persons exceeds $2000.

The suit of Stone against Beasley to recover $16,000, which the Stone Company alleges Mr. Beasley as contractor upon the government irrigation canal owes it for supplies furnished his construction crews was submitted to the court on briefs. The proceedings in this case, which have occupied several days of the time of the court during the present term, are now at an end and both the litigants are waiting for the decision of the court.

The divorce proceedings instituted by Mrs. Daniel Regan against her husband, who is serving a three year sentence in the state penitentiary for the killing of Mrs. Hess, his mother in law, came up in the district court upon a demurrer of the defendant. The court overruled the demurrer and ordered that Regan answer the complaint within ten days.

In the case of Elliott against Finley, involving the ownership of 10 acres of land near Verdi, the court gave a decision deciding the case in favor of Elliott, on the grounds that no consideration was shown in the deed conveying the land, and therefore the transaction was not legal. The defendant was given until September 15th in which to file a motion for a new trial.

The court appointed C. H. Stoddard, Fred Grob and G. H. Taylor appraisers of the estate of S. J. Bryant, a minor person.

Syndicate, Whose Representative Stole $20,000, Takes New Lease of Life

A sequel to the disappearance of a trusted representative of Boston people interested in the Montezuma mine, near Goldfield, occurred yesterday in the arrival from the hub of Clarence W. Rowley, a Boston lawyer and Miss F. E. Hodge.

Two years ago, when Goldfield was but little more than the promise of a mining camp, several Boston professional men located and exploited the Montezuma mines. The property appeared very promising and a representative was sent to Nevada with $20,000 in cash, with which to develop the mines.

Whether he was a thrifty individual or whether the strain of life in the west was too much for him it was not known. The men who put up the $20,000 know that they did not get a run for their money, but that their trusted friend and representative took to the tall uncut with their money and the company's records.

After a few months of silence investigation developed the fact that their Nevada representative had decamped. As the men interested in the property were lawyers and professional men the loss of the money was a serious blow.

After all efforts to locate the missing representative had proved unavailing, the company went to work and raised a sum larger than the first appropriation for development purposes and are now prepared to proceed with the exploitation of the property on a large scale.

The company intends to proceed and open up what they believe to be one of the best of the many Goldfield properties. The mine is within a short distance of Goldfield. The work will be commenced at once.

Mr. Rowley and Miss Hodge will leave today for Goldfield to make arrangements for the immediate prosecution of development work upon the property.

OFFICERS SEARCH THE SABIN HOME

A Joblot of Material Is Discovered and Some It Is Thought Will Shed Light on Recent Crimes

Constable Pollock yesterday swore out a search warrant for the purpose of finding if possible anything that would tend to fasten the crime of highway robbery upon Jim Sabin and his companion, Tony Christie. The officer, together with Detective Carpenter and Deputy Constables Malay and Wash, went to the Sabin residence in the western portion of town shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The place was formerly occupied by a woman named Mason, though Sabin and his wife have made it their home for the past several months

From one end to the other the house was ransacked by the officers. Trunks were opened, their contents examined, bureaus thoroughly searched; in fact nothing in the house escaped the scrutiny of the watchful officers.

Mrs. Sabin, who was present during the search, assisted in every way possible. The woman was emphatic in proclaiming that her husband is innocent of the crime for which he was arested.

"Jim may have his faults," said the little woman, "but he certainly never committed highway robbery."

As a result of the search the officers secured an old revolver, a quantity of jewelry, a dozen or more keys of various makes, an overcoat, sweater, hat and a pair of shoes. These will be held pending further investigation.

The officers also found the partially burned remnants of what appears to have been a piece of black cloth. It is possible, the officers say, that this was used as a mask on the night of the crime and that in an effort to destroy it the highwayman placed it in the stove.

WALSTAB SAYS THE WEATHER IS NOT HOT

"There's a difference of about seven-eighths of a degree in the heat here and in Reno," said Host Walstab of the Walstab Hotel yesterday afternoon, "and I think Reno has the best of it. It is hot of course, but I see no reason to complain. The report from California as well as the eastern states state that people are dying from prostration, you don't hear those kind of stories regarding Nevada. Though the mercury goes up pretty high the breezes from the mountains temper the severity of the sun's rays and we certainly do not suffer to any great extent. Only once, many years ago at Wadsworth, do I remember when the weather was so torrid in this section of the state."

BOILERMAKERS' STRIKE IS STILL IN PROGRESS

Contrary to reports the strike of the boilermakers and machinists on the Santa Fe railroad has not been ended. The International Union of the boilermakers and machinists is now engaged in sending notices throughout the country to this effect and warning all union men to remain away from the scene of trouble.

A number of these notices were received yesterday by the machinists employed here. They have been posted through the shops and in the round house.

Home From San Francisco

Mrs. T. F. Donelan, accompanied by her son, Dan, and daughter, Miss Genevieve, arrived in Sparks yesterday from San Francisco. They will visit for a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kay, after which they will go to Reno to reside. Mrs. Donelan has leased the Gibson home on West Second street. Herself and children have been at San Francisco for the past several months on account of the poor health of her son. The little fellow has entirely recovered.

On the Road to Recovery

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Robison, who have been confined to St. Winifred's hospital at San Francisco for the last few weeks are on the road to recovery. This cheering news was received from the bedside of the patients yesterday. Both Mr. and Mrs. Robison were operated upon, the husband suffering from appendicitis. It is now thought they will be able to return home within a few weeks.

STRUCK BY HEAVY RAIL AND KILLED

Carl Schulz Meets a Sad and Sudden Death While at Work Unloading Steel in Yards at Hazen

While engaged in assisting in the work of unloading steel rails from flat cars at Hazen yesterday morning Carl Shulz was struck by one of the rails and died while being taken to this place for medical treatment. Shulz had not been at work more than twenty minutes when the accident happened. In Reno the previous night he secured the position from A. Nelson, giving his name as Carl White.

The men engaged in unloading the cars allow one end of the rail to slide onto the pile and then throw the other end off. When a rail fails to fall straight it is put in place by means of a grappling block, the man using the grapple first giving a signal to the foreman to stop unloading. When a rail fell out of place yesterday morning Shulz, anxious to be prompt, jumped from the car and started to straighten it. He did not know the rule and failed to give the required signal.

The foreman, who was standing near realized the man's danger and started to pull him out of the way and give the signal to the men on the car. It was too late, for one of the ribbons of steel, weighing 600 pounds, was being thrown. It struck him on the head and shoulders, pinning him to the ground and rendering him unconscious.

Thomas Backus, who was assisting in unloading the car, attempted to stop the rail and in doing so two fingers on one of his hands were badly crushed.

Engineer Barclay, who was at Hazen immediately gave orders to prepare a special train. Both injured men were placed aboard, but when Argo was reached Shulz passed away.

The dead man was about 35 years of age. Nothing is known of his family. The body was taken off at this place and later taken in charge by Perkins, Oliver and Gulling. Coroner Read will probably hold an inquest tomorrow.

RENO STOCK BROKERAGE CO.

Capital Stock $20,000, All Subscribed.

A Word to Our Patrons and the Public Generally.

We feel confident that the recent slump has reached bottom; in fact, the rebound has already begun, and the next sixty days will see prices of all the legitimate stocks on a higher level than ever before. Our clients will bear testimony that we advocated the purchase of Montana, Belmont, Midway, Jumbo Extension, in fact, all the standard stocks, last week, and see the result: Montana on June 11 was $2.36; is now, June 14, $2.55. Midway on June 10 was $1.30; is now $1.50. Jumbo Extension was .14; is .18. Belmont on June 10 was 98 cents; is today $1.20. These are only samples.

THE people of Reno have an opportunity now to share in the increase bound to come, and again we advise the purchase of the standard legitimate stocks. This company can deal for you as if you were on the board, being in touch constantly with the floor of the Exchange. We ask you to watch the daily stock quotations in this paper, and see if our forecast on the market as above given is not correct. Above all, do not wait till these things get beyond you. Buy them now.

Our services are at your disposal for information on any mining stock anywhere.

We buy and sell for cash or on margin any listed or unlisted mining stock. Commission one (1) per cent. We are also fiscal agents for the following, all in Bullfrog District, Nevada.

The Montgomery Hill Mines Co., on Montgomery Mountain adjacent to the famous Shoshone, development is under active headway and a portion of a letter from the Superintendent is, "The shaft is down 25 feet and there is more quartz coming in at the bottom, and it is looking considerably better; and I think before we reach the 50-foot mark we will be in good ore. We have a splendid outfit and are making good progress in the holes."—From Curtis Mann, Rhyolite, Nev., June 10.

Buy this at 15c per share. This property will make a mine.

THE BULLFROG-MONITOR MINING CO. adjoins the Montgomery Hill on the east and what is said of the Montgomery Hill applies to this company. Is being actively developed. Is an excellent buy at 15 cents.

The Amargosa-Bullfrog Mining Co.—this stock at 10 cents is an exceedingly good speculation. We will say more of this in the near future.

Again we advise, get in now. Stocks are cheap now compared to three months hence.

We receive quotations four times daily, opening and closing of both sessions of the exchange, and same are posted on the blackboard in our customers' room.

You are hereby required to appear in an action commenced against you as defendants by the City of Reno, a corporation, as plaintiff, in the Second Judicial District Court of the State of Nevada, in and for the County of Washoe, and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this summons (exclusive of day of service) if served in said county, or twenty days if served out of said county, but within said district, and in all other cases forty days; or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. The action is brought to condemn and hold for public use, upon making just compensation therefor, a right of way twenty (20) feet in width and one hundred and eighty-one (181) feet length more or less, for a public sewer and an outlet therefor through land owned by defendants above named, said land and the right of way sought to be condemned, being particularly described as follows, to-wit:

Commencing at a point two hundred (200) feet south of the center of the Southern Pacific Railway Company's right of way, said point being in a direct line with the center line of said Spokane street, extended, which said point is also on the northern boundary of a certain piece of parcel of land containing six and ninety-two one-hundredths (6.92) acres, now belonging to the said defendants, and heretofore known and described as being a portion of the estate of one Samuel Brown, deceased, situate, lying, and being between the said Truckee river and the said Southern Pacific Railway right of way, thence running south one hundred and eighty-one (181) feet more or less to the running easterly along the edge of said runing easterly along the edge of said Truckee river twenty (20) feet; thence turning and running northerly one hundred and eighty-one feet (181) feet more or less to the northern boundary of said tract of land, thence turning and running westerly along said northern boundary twenty (20) feet to the place of beginning, comprising a strip of land one hundred and eighty-one feet in length, more or less, and twenty (20) feet in width. GOUDY ALIVE IN SEATTLE

Man Supposed to Have Been Killed Near Sparks Turns Up Safe Among Friends

Frank B. Goudy is alive and well.

The man who was supposed to be the dead man found in a field near Sparks has turned up in Seattle and has made his appearance among his friends of that city This intelligence was received in Reno yesterday by Coroner John T. Read, in a letter from the Seattle lodge of Elks, of which Mr. Goudy was at one time a member.

The information that Goudy is alive makes the circumstance surrounding the body of the man found near Sparks on June 12th more of a mystery than ever.

The explosion of the Goudy theory leaves the authorities without the least vestage of a clue as to the identity of the unknown man whose body was found with a bullet through the brain a month ago.

Mr Goudy, who was a former official of the revenue service at Seattle, came to Reno in May. While here he lost considerable money gambling and suddenly disappeared from the city on June 3d, about the time the unknown man is supposed to have met his death. Mr. Goudy gave no intimation of his intention of leaving and departed from the Golden Hotel in this city without settling his bill. He also passed a check for $300 at the hotel and the paper came back dishonored with the indorsement "no funds."

Ten days later the body of the dead man was found near Sparks. The description was very much the same as that given of Mr. Goudy and the clothes in several particulars corresponded very closely with the apparel of the missing man.

The remains were, however, in such an advanced state of decomposition that it was difficult to obtain a very good description of the dead man. Through his brain was a bullet hole, and at the autopsy performed after the body had been exhumed the physicians secured the bullet which carried death to the unknown man, a 32-calibre ball, lodged against the inside of the skull opposite the point of its entrance A diagram of the mouth of the dead man was also taken while affair No revolver was found while affair. N revolver was found on the body and a careful search of the ground near the scene of the tragedy failed to reveal the presence of the weapon.

Whether the dead man committed suicide and some passer by robbed the body of the revolver and other valuables, or whether the unfortunate man was the victim of foul play may never be known Certain it is that he met death in a strange land, far from friends, and probably without resources.

Careful inquiry has been made by the authorities and descriptions of the dead man have been well circulated through this section of the country, but they have resulted in no information that would tend to establish the dead man s identity

REARRANGE THE COMPANY

New Articles of Incorporation Filed in Washoe County By Virginia and Truckee

Articles of incorporation under the reorganization of the Virginia and Truckee railroad company were filed yesterday in the office of County Recorder Stoddard.

In the rearrangement of the company's affairs the name of the corporation is changed from the Virginia and Truckee railroad company to the Virginia and Truckee Railway. Its capital stock is stated to be $5,000,000, and the articles state that the new company is organized to build the Gardnerville branch of the road in Douglass county, a distance of twenty-two and a fraction miles.

By reason of numerous changes in the corporation laws of Nevada, which have been placed upon the statute books, since the company was originally organized. It was found advantageous to reincorporate, as the company contemplates the extension of its line and other notable improvements.

The old company has deeded all its property, including franchises and rights to way, to the new corporation. The directors of the new company are D O. Mills, president; H. M. Yerington, vice president and general manager, W. F. Deal, W. E. Sharon, K. W. Eckley, James Newlands Jr., J. M. Ardery and George T. Mills, directors. The Bank of California is named as the corporation's depository and its attorney and counselor is W. F. Deal. The other officers named in the articles are W. H. Kirk, chief engineer; G. A. Tyrell, supply agent; I. M. Fording, master mechanic; Charles Bruiin, master car builder and J. Castle, master car painter.

The company's charter under its articles of incorporation continues for fifty years. The company now operates 52 3 miles of road, and with the contemplated Gardnerville branch the company will have a total mileage of 72 3 miles.

Bright's Disease and Diabetes News

San Francisco, July 2, 1905.

To the Druggists of Nevada—Dear Sirs: The discovery in this city of a new diuretic is saving thousands of lives. You, as a brother druggist, well know that up to this time chronic Bright's Disease and Diabetes have been necessarily fatal. It is so no longer. And I not only know this by being on the ground, but I was also one of the patients; I had both Bright's Disease and Diabetes and looked upon death as inevitable. I was so prejudiced I wouldn't buy the new treatment. I couldn't believe it. I not only recovered but have since given it to somewhere near fifty patients and know of only three or four failures.

I am a pioneer druggist of this city; have been doing business on my own premises for forty-eight years and I declare to you on the honor of a brother pharmacist the absolute curability of these dread diseases in about nine-tenths of all cases. Yours sincerely CARL D. ZELLE.

We sent for the Fulton Compounds to which the above refers and now have them in stock. They are the first cures the world has even seen for chronic Bright's Disease and Diabetes. Free pamphlet. J. B. McCullough, agent.

When to suspect Bright's Disease—weakness without cause; puffy ankles, hands or eyelids; kidney trouble after the third month; urine may show sediment; heart pains; failing vision; drowsiness; one or more of these.
